

K2001P Work Health & Safety Representatives Refresher

State ID: K2001P

About this course

Need to brush up on your workplace health and safety knowledge?

This two-day refresher course allows participants to revisit and update skills and knowledge gained during the Intro Training for Work Health and Safety Reps course. Participants will be updated on the essential information required to continue to fulfill their duties as their organisation's elected work health and safety representative.

Participants will be guided through:

- Recent legislation amendments and how to apply them in the workplace
- Conducting effective investigations into workplace accidents or incidents
- General refresh on the requirements of an elected work health and safety representative

Do you need to complete the full course? Check out our Introductory Training for Health and Safety Representatives course.
